EBORCRAFT

A boardroom table designed to accommodate high-tech communications equipment has been specially commissioned from Eborcraff, manufacturer of wood veneer office furniture. In addition to the unusual specification, exceptional circumstances meant that Eborcraff had to contract to design and manufacture the unique table within a tight deadline of only two weeks. Eborcraff's client, a major PLC with international interests, specified that the table should incorporate cabling facilities for both as presentation equipment and video conferencing. To meet these requirements, Eborcraff supplied a table from its Oracle collection of boardroom furniture, and adapted it to accommodate eight customer specified power modules, together with three video conferencing facilities. enq 457
